I really like the separation of the picture and the header here, i think it is super formal but also really welcoming

Same thing here, just different

In this page of Caitlins website i love how she sets up her photos where you get three different looks from her but they all show her personality and the theme stays from the first page, it is just super clean but is still fun and welcoming and shows personality

What i like about Dan's Website, is the super professional way he connects all the pages. Everything has a consistent theme but it all connects and is simple and super easy to read and navigate, his is definitely the most user friendly, in that you are almost lead to where he wants you to go.

About

Hello!

I am Dan Teixeira - I am a Florida-born but very much Brazilian raised artist, and recent graduate from Penn State's B.F.A. Musical Theatre program.

At an early age I started taking theatre classes at the Casa do Teatro da Vila Heliana in São Paulo and continued to do so at the Miranda Miles Theatre in Miami, FL. During high school I moved across the world to attend the Liding Park School for the Performing Arts in the United Kingdom, where I established my foundational training in the arts while studying for my A-levels in English, Theatre & Chemistry. In 2016, I was named a YoungArts Merit Winner in Theatre prior to completing my studies.

After four years at Liding, I made my way back to the U.S. to become a Nittany Lion at Penn State. There I was involved in eleven main stage productions including American Idiot, Legally Blonde and Kiss of the Spiderwoman. While in school, performed regionally at the New London Barn Playhouse in New Hampshire, and the Sarasota Opera House in Florida.

As the world begins to ground, I will be showcasing in New York City in 2021 and intend to move there soon after!
